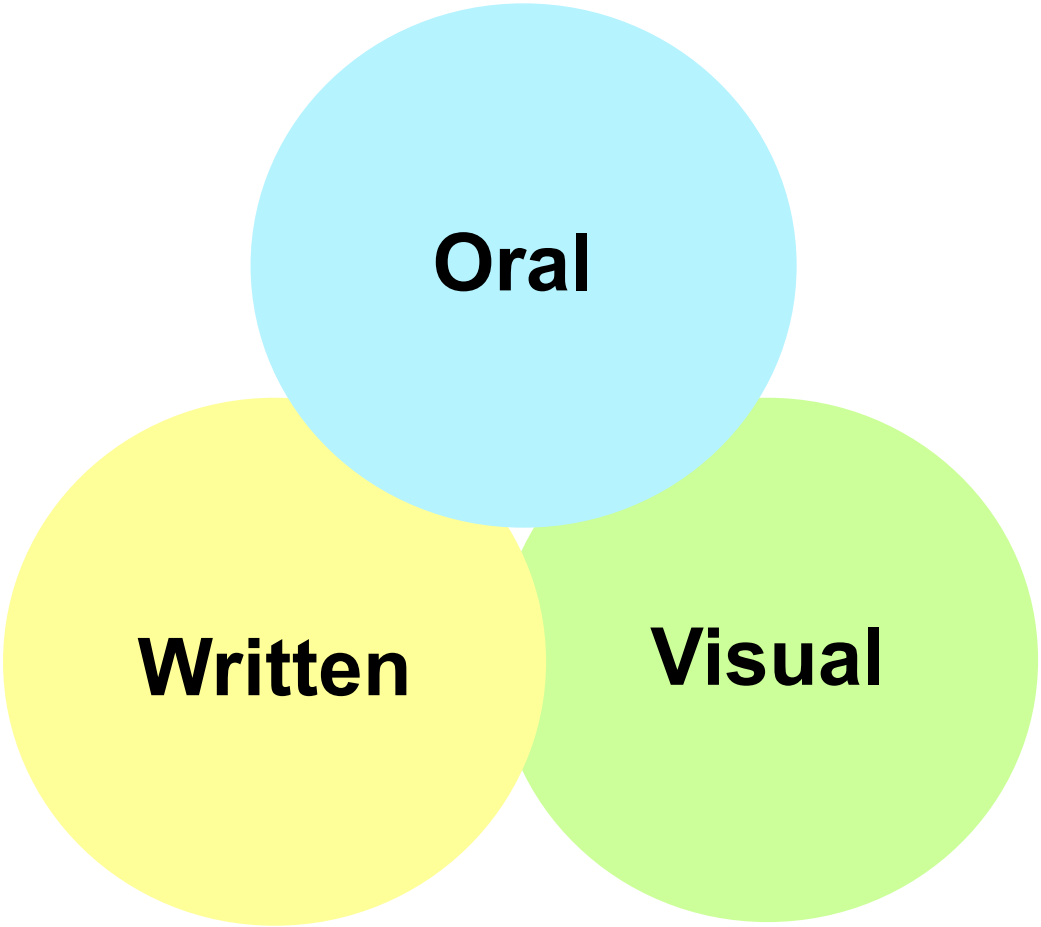
Technical Communication

= convergence of multiple channels

Multi-modality



Professional Email Writing

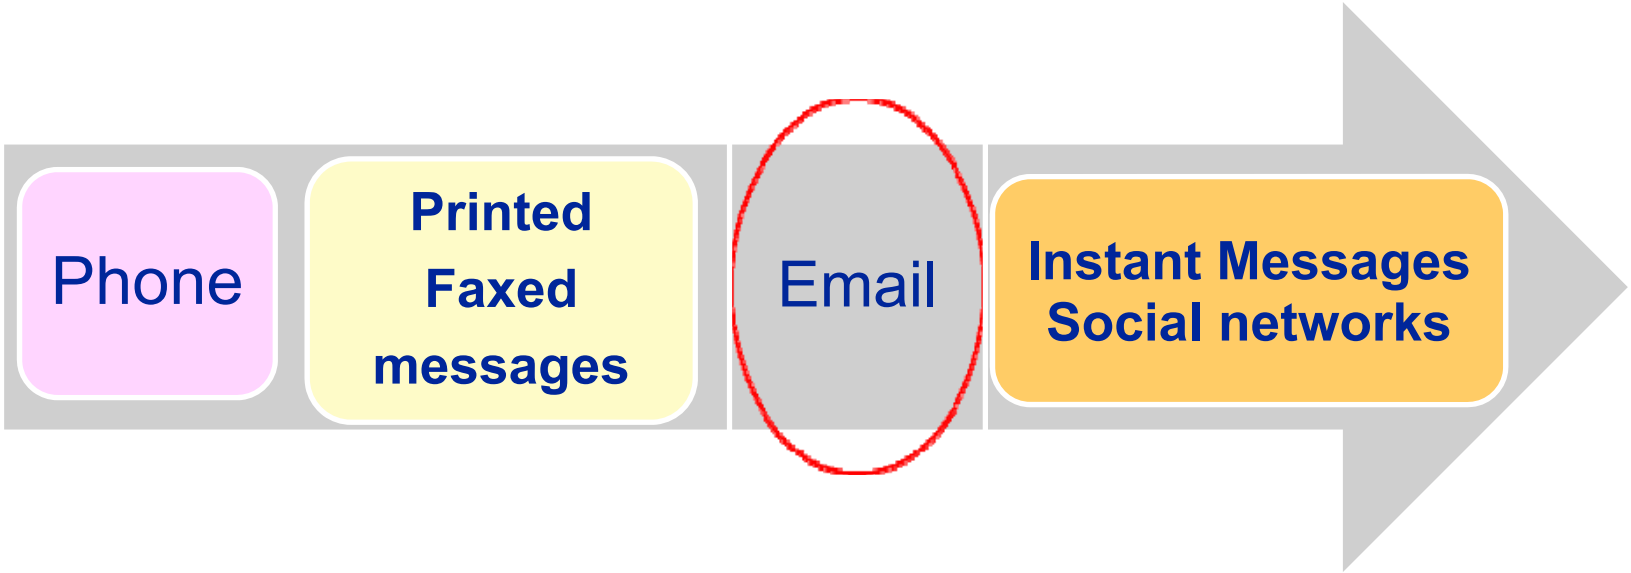
- Working in virtual teams
- Email examples

Working in virtual teams

Business people who are geographically distant use network technology to collaborate.

- Email writing
- Instant messaging
- Video Chat
- Video-conference meetings

Electronic communication tools in the workplace



- More time is spent using email than the telephone, instant messaging and social media combined.
- Email is still the best medium for many short- to medium-length messages.
- Email's non-instantaneous nature is an advantage when used properly.
- Email is the most common business communication channel & the primary content transport system in most organizations.

Workplace e-mails perform critical tasks:

- informing employees
- giving directions
- outlining procedures
- requesting data
- supplying responses
- confirming decisions

- Email hygiene
- Virus protection
- Content filtering

- Email policy
- Workplace email ≠ private
- No flaming

Do not use e-mail to discuss confidential information
